The Aces' tight end position is currently led by All-Pro selection Darren Waller. Waller is one of the most dynamic tight ends in the league, and he is a major threat in both the passing and running games. In 2021, Waller caught 107 passes for 1,196 yards and nine touchdowns. He also rushed for 220 yards and two touchdowns. Waller is a matchup nightmare for opposing defenses, and he is a big reason why the Aces have one of the most potent offenses in the league.

In addition to Waller, the Aces also have a number of other talented tight ends on their roster. Foster Moreau is a solid all-around tight end who can contribute in both the passing and running games. He is also a good blocker, and he is a valuable asset to the Aces' offense. Keelan Cole is a former wide receiver who has made a successful transition to tight end. Cole is a speedy and athletic tight end who can stretch the field vertically. He is also a good blocker, and he has the potential to be a major weapon for the Aces in the years to come.
